A PLAY WITH A MORAL.

If there be any one who inclines to the belief that they should draw their skirts aside pharisaically from folk of the footlights and the sawdust ring, they should forthwith hie themselves to the Grand Opera House on Friday evening, May 14th, and gather a few hints from Frederic Thompson's mammoth production "Polly of the Circus."

"Polly of the Circus" is a remarkable study, New York found her interesting; Chicago has stamped its approval as the greatest play ever given there. There are no high sounding dissertations on love, marriage and divorce; no acute analysis of emotions, just a simple homely study of an ignorant girl born to the garish life of the circus, thrown by accident into the home of the young village clergymen, awakening to love, to knowledge, to hope and to God.

The vain endeavors of holier-than-thou church women and deacons to separate the girl and the young minister, the glad, self-sacrifice of the girl when it is born in upon her that his career may be imperiled by her love, and the final happy ending of the simple story, after the storm combine to make a more than interesting study.

If you know anyone whose tendency is to pass by on the other side, anyone who is soured by the world, anyone who has lost faith, send that one to hear from the lips of "Polly of the Circus" the old, old words "Whither thou goest I will go" for "Thy people shall be my people and thy God my God."

Miss Edith Taliaferro will play the leading part. She will be surrounded by a very strong cast of well known players.

NEWS OF THIS VICINITY.

ATWATER.

Our fruit growers are looking hard for signs of coming blossoms but fall to find them in any quantity.

John Maxwell is slowly sinking.

Miss Hicklen closed the Deer Creek school Friday, with a basket picnic and literary exercises.

Frank Saint and partner of New Baltimore, with their new pneumatic clipping machine, sheared William McD. Stone's and H. Hicks' flocks, Friday.

Talking of wool, here's one that's not only all wool but more'n a yard wide. A fleece shorn from a grade ram, shropshire and merino, both close, and the length combined, weighed 39 pounds. Frank Saint is my reference. He sheared it. Mr. Hicks' flock of 32 averaged over eight pounds per head.

Miss Stratton, teacher at Thompson's Corners, will celebrate the "last day," Friday, as will Miss Clara Douthitt at Science Hill, with a picnic and literary doings.

The business men here are handing Jake Lepley big silver dollars towards new tags for the baseball team. Mr. Stoodley is manager of ball team No. 2 here, and is organizing a live bunch and making dates far and near.

Mrs. Joe Marshall has been with her daughter Oma, at Alliance for a few weeks, having one of her eyes treated. Is feared the eye will have to be removed. Mrs. Marshall is in poor health, otherwise, being threatened with a hardening of the valves of the heart, which proved fatal for her sister, Mrs. J. M. Walker.

Since Suffolk and Portage county as well, went dry, the 2c round trip rate from Hartsville to Canton has filled the trains jam up.

Mr. Smith of Hartsville, and C. Biles canvassed a new cream route, taking in Science Hill, to begin next week.

Big demand for young pigs, with a very limited supply.

Mrs. Jamison goes to Kent tomorrow to fix, out Mrs. John Woodward with guns, etc., at for Boston folks to look upon, where she will visit after the 15th.

Raymond Rorabaugh has again, for something like the 'steenth time, sold his horse, buggy, harness, robes, etc., to as many different parties, and gone looking for "work."

The Misses Hattie and Florence Betts, daughters of Mrs. Lillian Betts, returned to Cleveland, their adopted home, the other day. Florence lives with automobile dealers and gets all the choo choo rides she wants. Hattie comes out in white hair, white dresses and white shoes.

Mrs. L. Betts has moved to Akron with her cousin, Mrs. Emma Excell Lynn, Christian Science healer.

The white of the new basket factory sounds far and near daily. Bananas crates are being made on a Cleveland order.

E. N. Sweetser, of whom we spoke recently of going to the "pen" at Columbus, has gone. Major Waybright got the job as guard, which is good for $75 every month pay day. His family will remain in Marietta.

William McD. Stone, teacher of a class of young men in the M. E. Sunday school, has organized the same into an athletic club. He had his class at the new basket factory Wednesday evening, putting them through a series of stunts in drills, marches and gymnastics. The modern way of this new era in church work hardly meets the approval of good old time worshippers. The idea is to attract the young and hold them, in preference to going elsewhere for entertainment.

Miss Hattie Hick, saleslady in a wholesale millinery house of Lincoln, Nebraska, is having a four-weeks' vacation, visiting her father, Henry, and wife, her sister, Mrs. W. Stone, and family, and sister, Mary Vaughn, and brother, Harry, of Alliance. Miss Hattie is also buyer for the house and has her expenses paid to and from and in New York next month for that purpose. Miss Hattie visited W. J. Bryan's elegant home, noted the celebrated fifteen acres of alfalfa thereon; also visited the Seventh Day Adventists' college, Agricultural experiment station, and can tell of them interestingly.

Our enterprising teamster of Lima, of whom we spoke as absent-mindedly having forgotten to mention the death of one of his horses when negotiating a loan at Alliance recently, on his team, was called on the carpet by an Alliance attorney since for improper language, with threat of further action if not paid. Part of the fine was cashed and balance promised.

The Baccalaureate sermon of the High school graduating class was preached Sunday evening by the Rev. John Dunder. Mr. Dunder is a new arrival in our town, having bought a large farm. His health prevented his continuance in the pulpit.

The stock visited Onida the first of the week and left a son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Ferrall and a son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ward.

The marriage of Miss Nellie Fultz, one of Minerva's popular young ladies, and Eugene L. Clark, of Alliance, was solemnized.

emized at home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fultz.

Rev. J. F. A. Lautenschlager, formerly of this place, but now of Philo, was awarded $250 and a bronze medal by the Carnegie hero fund commission this week on account of the death of his son, Lehman, who lost his life in an attempt to rescue Miss Barbara Kussmaul from drowning in the canal at Taylorsville on Jan. 8.

Dr. T. C. Van Pelt has had a lighting system installed in his residence.

There was quite an excitement over the discovery of oil at Tabor last week. A well was shot on James Long farm, resulting in a flow of five barrels per day.

Misses Bertha Graber, Eva Janson, Lena Rhiel and Olan Woods passed the Boxwell examination at Carrollton.

Our commencement will be held in the public school auditorium Friday evening, May 21, at which time two young ladies, Misses Mary Kettler and Elizabeth Rukenbrod, will receive the official certificate given by the board of education upon the completion of the high school course. Prof. F. P. Geiger, Supt. of the Canal Dover school, will deliver an address.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

New York, May 11--The opening of the stock market today was without feature and extremely dull. Prices hung around yesterday's closing level until after midday when activity was noticed in Reading, that stock selling at 15 1/2, another new high mark for this stock on this movement. Good buying was noticed in Erie today, that stock selling at 2 1/2. Smelters were active also, selling at 11 1/4; in fact the whole list made gains. Unless something unforeseen happens, prices should continue upward.

Florida has become the home in the western world of a tree coming from China and Algeria whose berries contain fats and oils that make them a natural soap. In the same soil in which the "soap tree" flourishes there is also cultivated a tree which yields a substance having a chemical structure much like that of tallow. The products of the two trees are combined in soap that becomes an article of commerce.
